Blocker Plains is a reaction game with six levels from very easy until very difficult and individual, an unlimited ball-number, 50 stone plains and a freely movable Blocker. Aim is, through fast clear away of the stone-plains, to be accepted into a champions-list. Seven game-accompanied sound-topics and changing backgrounds gives Blocker Plains a long prolonged motivation. Six players can participate simultaneously at the game. Color LIFE figures the reproduction behavior of microorganism. The reproduction rules can be free selected likewise the incremental width and output time of the generations. Color-palettes can be produced by your own. With a shape-run, new rules and nice graphics can be found. The generations become also represented with decimal cell-diameters smaller than one and with a color-median value. Perpetuum mobile realizes continually moving and rotating balls. Up to 500 balls jump in an area around. The ball-movement can take place with gravity dynamically. As spectator-position can be selected the screen, the room-middle, a ball or an elevator. Hereby special visual effects come to the validity. The user can plan diverse attitudes over six dialog-sides and save these into a file.
